Scott has acted as a quantum expert witness and expert advisor.

Scott has over 30 years' experience from a varied background in the construction industry, having worked for major building and civil engineering contractors; and international contract and commercial consultancies.

Scott has worked across a variety of projects and sectors, within the UK, Ireland, France, Finland, USA, Canada, Argentina, Taiwan, Turkey, and Chile, consisting of buildings (hospitals, education, commercial) and civil engineering (infrastructure, power, marine), construction/upgrading/decommissioning, or process engineering in petro-chem facilities, nuclear energy and power generation facilities. During this time, Scott has attained significant experience of bespoke and standard form contracts, claims and dispute resolution.

Scott is regularly called upon by Solicitors, contractors, subcontractors and employer organisations to assist with claims (or defence to claims) for additional costs due to delay, disruption, and defects, as well as the negotiation of such matters.

Scott has been involved in over 150 Adjudications.

Scott provides public and private seminars and training both publicly - for Contractor's and Employers - and professional bodies, on commercial and contractual awareness, and standard form contracts (including, NEC3, NEC4, JCT, ICE, IC, GC Works, IChemE, MF1 and FIDIC).

This expert has the following cross-examination experience:
